(a) Roads. Private roads and driveways and parking areas for multifamily developments shall be designed and constructed in accordance with the pavement design standards and specifications of the department of public works. The final pavement design shall be based on California Bearing Ratio (CBR) Tests of the subgrade material. However, in no case shall the pavement design be less than six-inch aggregate base material and two-inch SM-2A asphalt. The routing of heavy vehicles (i.e., trucks) shall be identified on the plan submitted for review. The pavement design on the proposed truck route shall be designed to accommodate the number and type of trucks anticipated to be using the facility. All materials to be used in the construction methods and tolerances shall be in accordance with the Virginia Department of Transportation standards and specifications unless the plan specifies stricter requirements. A certified professional engineer, licensed in the State of Virginia, shall be employed by the developer to monitor and supervise the materials used; the adequacy of the subgrade; the installation of drainage structures, curb and gutter and all concrete items; and all road, driveway and parking area construction activities, including material compaction, grading tolerances and compliance with the plans and specifications. Prior to issuance of the last certificate of occupancy, the certified professional engineer, licensed in the State of Virginia, shall provide the county with certification that each phase of construction met density requirements; that all material depths were verified for compliance; and that the road and parking areas have been constructed in strict accordance with the plans and specifications. (c) HVAC screening. All ground level and rooftop HVAC and mechanical equipment shall be screened from view. Screening shall consist of landscaping or materials used in the principal building's exterior. If HVAC wall units are used they must be architecturally compatible with the building.

(d) Recreational vehicle parking. In addition to the required parking, an additional five percent of the minimum required parking spaces shall be provided for recreational vehicles and shall be screened unless these requirements are waived or reduced by the director of planning or the planning commission because full compliance is unnecessary due to restrictive covenants, the type of development, expected mix of residents, or other factors. This parking area shall be located in a separate, designated area and shall not be located in front of units.

(e) Applicability. All multifamily development on property which did not have an approved plan of development, proffers approved as part of a rezoning case, an approved special exception, or previous multifamily development on the property as of November 28, 2000, shall comply with the requirements of this section.
